beyond the standard.

The technological enthusiasm of countless race wins in BMWs is reflected today in the AC Schnitzer tuning products for the Range Rover Sport.

More sophistication, more superiority: Range Rover by AC Schnitzer.

How does the Range Rover Sport become a Range Rover by AC Schnitzer? The engineers and designers at AC Schnitzer have been working on answering this question since 2002. Until now though, the performance upgrade has been limited to individual components.

The exclusive technology skills of the Aachen team are ideally matched to the superiority of the undisputed king of SUVs. Now for the first time, a comprehensive tuning product range from AC Schnitzer is available for the Range Rover Sport 3.0 L SD V6 diesel – and will inspire more than just secret agents on Her Majesty's Service.

The aerodynamically optimised AC Schnitzer front skirt of PU Rim gives the Range Rover a strikingly dynamic profile.

Fully adjustable: The AC Schnitzer lowering module with 50 mm "play" sets new standards.

Extra large, extra light: The AC Schnitzer Lightweight Forged rims in 22" – BiColor (left) or Anthracite (below) – are champions in their weight class.

Range Rover Sport discovers new terrain: Cinematic fascination for all the senses.

After months of development and testing, the boffins in Aachen have achieved an outstanding success with the exclusive tuning products for the Range Rover Sport. The performance upgrade catapults the V6 diesel power plant to 250 kW/340 HP and 720 Nm, while the CO₂ emissions remain at standard level – typical of Efficient Performance by AC Schnitzer.

To ensure that the new power potential also exerts greater fascination visually and acoustically, the spotlight focuses on the AC Schnitzer Racing Forged rims Type VIII in 22" and 23" (country-specific) as well as the Lightweight Forged Wheels Type V in 22", the AC Schnitzer engine styling and the AC Schnitzer twin silencers. These are available in two impressively styled variants, harmoniously tailored for a precise fit with the AC Schnitzer rear skirt with integral diffuser.

The AC Schnitzer keyholder and the subtly branded floor mats of fine velours continue the dynamic cinema experience in 3D into the exclusive interior. Cue – camera – action!

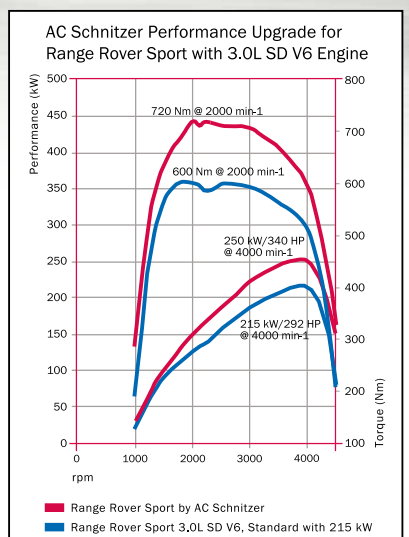

Masculine elegance: AC Schnitzer rear skirt with integral diffuser and AC Schnitzer twin silencers with dual chromed "Sports Trim" tailpipe trims on right and left.

Pure racing: The AC Schnitzer "Sport" tailpipe trims in classic motorsport design.

Eye-candy for technology insiders: Engine styling by AC Schnitzer for the Range Rover Sport.
